HISTORICAL AND STATISTICAL SKETCH

OF THE

TOWN OF LOWELL.

LITTLE more than sixteen years have elapsed since the place where Lowell now stands was comparatively without inhabitants. At that time, not more than fifty families were contained in those parts of Chelmsford and Tewksbury of which the town of Lowell is composed.

About the year 1815 it was ascertained that the Pawtucket Falls afforded an immense water-power, and that the land was remarkably well situated for the distribution and use of this power. The falls and surrounding lands were soon secured. In a few years operations were commenced. Canals were dug; factories, dwelling houses and stores were erected. The population and business rapidly increased, until, in the year 1824, the place was incorporated and received the name of Lowell. Since that time the population has increased from 1000 to 1600, and business has increased in a still greater ratio.

The rapid growth of Lowell is owing, principally, to the magnitude of its water power, and the facility with which it can be applied. It is produced by a canal one mile and half in length, sixty feet wide, and carrying eight feet in depth. The entire fall is 32 feet, so that the water may be used twice.

From the main canal, the water is distributed, by branches, to the various points where it is wanted for use, and then discharged into the Merrimac or Concord, as the case may be. This hydraulic power is sufficient for 50 or 60 factories, of the size of those already erected. A very considerable water power is also afforded by the Concord river.

Although manufacturing is the principal, it is by no means the only business of Lowell. Almost every kind of industry which can be prosecuted in any inland town, is beginning to be carried on here. The increased and increasing facilities of communication with the surrounding country and with the city of Boston, by means of improved roads, canals and railways, render Lowell a place peculiarly advantageous both for trade and for all the variety of mechanical industry. In short, such are the advantages and such the present prospects of Lowell, that we fully believe its future prosperity will be for many years, at least equal to the past. Should this be the case, Lowell will in five years contain 32,000 inhabitant ; in ten years, 64,000 ; in twenty years, 256,000 ! ! !—more than three times the present population of Boston—a population almost as incredible now as the present population would have seemed if foretold 16 years ago. The great obstacle to this rapid growth appears to be the want of sufficient water-power ; but when we reflect, that only a few rods from Lowell, the whole current of the Merrimack may be used again—that steam, which, in some large manufacturing cities is the only power, may be employed to an unlimited extent—and that throughout the whole American continent, the demand for manufactures is but just beginning to exist—such a growth is at least not improbable.

The principal water-power, together with a large amount of real estate, is owned by a company called “The Proprietors of Locks and Canals on Merrimack River,” with a capital of $600,000. They dispose of mill-wrights and lands as they are wanted. Besides these they have a large Machine Shop, in which they manufacture machinery, and employ from 200 to 300 workmen.

The first Manuf. Company, in point of age, as well as capital, is the Merrimack. It has a capital of $1,500,000, with five large brick factories, containing 26,000 spindles and 1,000 looms. It employs from 3 to 400 males, and 8 to 900 females, and consumes 5,000 bales or 1,500,000 pounds of cotton annually. It manufactures, bleaches and prints 6,500,000 yards annually.

The Hamilton Manuf. Company, has a capital of $900,000, three large brick factories, containing 16,000 spindles and 500 looms, and employs 1000 operatives, 700 of whom are females. It consumes 4000 bales of cotton, manufactures 80,000 yards per week, or above 4,000,000 yards per annum. Two of the mills make twilled goods, the other one plain.

There are also bleach and print works belonging to this company, in which part of the goods are converted into calicoes and fancy articles.

The Appleton Manuf. Company, with a capital of 500.000 dollars, has two large brick factories, containing 11.500 spindles, 380 looms, and employs about 60 males and 575 females. It uses about 1.600.000 pounds of cotton, and manufactures 5.200.000 yards of cloth annually.

The Lowell Manuf. Company, with a capital of 600.000 dollars, has one factory for Cotton goods, containing 4000 spindles and 132 looms. They use 1.500 000 pounds of cotton annually, and make 60.000 yards of cloth and 2500 yards of carpeting per week. They manufacture the Kidderminster and Brussels carpets, and rugs of various kinds and patterns. They employ 175 males and 400 females.

The Middlesex Manuf. Company, with a capital of 500.000 dollars, has two brick factories in operation, containing 28 sets of Cards, 4620 spindles, 38 broad-cloth and 92 Cassimere looms. They employ 185 males and 350 females, and consume 600.000 pounds of wool per annum.

The Suffolk Manuf. Company, with a capital of 450.000 dollars, has two large brick factories, containing 10,240 spindles, 348 looms, employs about 70 males and 440 females. They manufacture twilled goods, 90.000 yards per week, and use 4000 to 5000 bales of Cotton goods.

The Tremont Manuf. Company, with a capital of 500.000 dollars, has two factories, containing 11.520 spindles, 404 looms. They consume 34.000 pounds of cotton, and manufacture 125.500 yards of cloth per week, and employ 70 males and 460 females.

The Lawrence Manuf. Company, with a capital of 1.200.000 dollars, has in operation 5 factories, running 31.000 spindles, and 900 looms, weaving 37 and 41 inch wide, No.30 and 14 cotton fabrics, and employs about 1300 operatives.

The Boott Manuf. Company, with a capital of 1.000.000 dollars, have erected two large factories, one of which will go into operation in June next; also, two blocks of boarding-houses, containing 8 tenements each. The foundations are laid for two more factories, and several blocks of boarding-houses.

The Belvidere Manuf. Company, employ about 70 operatives, and manufacture flannel, 5000 yards per week.

Young's Flannel Factory, Massaic falls, manufactures about 3000 yards per week, employs about 30 hands, of which 15 are males, and consumes about 1000 pounds of wool per week. It has been in operation about one year.

The Lowell Bleachery, has a capital of 50.000 dollars, employs 30 to 40 hands, and bleaches 4.800.000 yards per year.

On Concord river, a short distance from the village, there are powder works, belonging to Oliver M. Whipple, Esq. at which is made powder of a superior quality. 30.000 kegs of 25 pounds each, are made annually.

To these establishments may be added the Card and Whip factory, Planeing Machine, Reed Machine, Grist and Saw Mills. Also, in the immediate vicinity, Glass Works, and a Furnace supplying every description of castings.

CENTRAL VILLAGE.

THIS name is given to that part of Dracutt lying on the Merrimack river, opposite Lowell. It embraces a circuit of half a mile around Central Bridge, and is mostly laid out into streets, squares, and building lots. Ten years ago, this tract was almost without an inhabitant, where now are from 50 to 60 families, and the prospect of a rapid settlement.

There is an Academy incorporated, called the "Central Village Academy." The company has organised and secured a considerable amount of funds. The site for the Academy is elevated, and has a commanding view of Lowell and all the surrounding country. The building is already commenced and will be completed early in the ensuing season.
